Proposed Sign Ordinance sets standards

GIVE BLOOD. The St. Peter's Parish Center was a busy place Saturday as nearly 200 pints of blood were donated to the Red Cross to fulfill the parish quota for protection under the blood assurance plan. Parish members who have need to draw on the parish blood bank during the coming year, for themselves or their families, are advised to contact Mrs. Thomas Aschbacher, chairman of the drive. The long-awaited Sign Ordinance for Antioch was presented to members of the Planning Commission Thursday, January 24, by professional planner Bruce Christensen. The proposed ordinance is still in preliminary form and was presented for study by the Planning Commission members, to be discussed and acted upon at a later date.

Village Trustee Mike Haley suggested that the proposed ordinance be submitted to the Chamber of Commerce and Industry, which has a committee working on the sign problem, for further input. Commission chairman Robert Bemis said that copies of the draft would be sent to area sign companies also.

Beginning with the premise that "There is a significant relationship between the manner in which signs are displayed, public safety, and the value and economic stability of adjoining property," the proposed amendment to the zoning Ordinance sets forth standards for the location, size and design of various types of signs in the different zoning districts of the village.

The ordinance, first of all, would classify signs according to their function as either advertising signs, business signs or special signs. Advertising signs -- defined as "a sign which directs attention to a business, commodity, service or entertainment . . . offered elsewhere than upon the premises where such sign is located. . . . -- are not permitted in any zoning district."

Any sign which is determined by the Building Inspector to be unsafe or obsolete would have to be removed or altered within 10 days after written notice to the owner of the property upon which it is located.

The proposed ordinance further states: "All signs not in conformance with this Article shall be removed, altered, or converted to conform to the provisions of this Article not more than five years after the effective date thereof." In addition, all signs must be maintained "in a state of good appearance and repair."

The preliminary draft of the ordinance contains extensive provisions concerning the permitted location, size, number, height, projection, and illumination of signs in residential, business and industrial districts.

Among these specifics is the provision that "House number signs shall be required on all premises."

Signs of a special nature, such as those advertising or announcing a temporary event, are to be authorized as conditional uses, on an individual basis by the Village Board, with recommendation from the Planning Commission.

The proposed ordinance will be discussed at the next regular monthly Planning Commission meeting, February 7, before being forwarded to the Village Board for official action.

Lake Villa moves to annex industrial park

The Village of Lake Villa plans to annex the Larson Industrial Park, located on the east side of Route 83 north of the Village. Zoning Board chairman Don Curtis told the Village trustees at their meeting Wednesday, January 23, that Larson had approached the Village seeking annexation of the tract.

In order to bring the industrial park into the Village, a couple other annexations are contemplated. John Gridley, who was present at the meeting, informed the Board that he will file a petition to annex 16 acres of land which he owns on the west side of Route 83, north of Petite Lake Rd. Curtis pointed out that this would make the Larson property contiguous to the Village, allowing annexation. He also said that he would look into the possibility of bringing the Goldberg property, also on the east side of Route 83 into the Village.

Curtis said that lawyers for the property owners would draw up a proposed pre-annexation agreement, which will be submitted to the Board for its approval. The annexation involves a possible total of 128 acres.

In response to action taken earlier by the Antioch Village Board, Lake Villa Mayor Ted Nielsen named a committee to discuss common problems between the two villages. Zoning Board chairman Don Curtis and member John Janosko, along with trustees

Chuck Madsen and "Duke" Schneider will meet with the six officials appointed by Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton.

Nielsen said that with the two villages coming closer together all the time he thought it was a good idea to have the special committee meeting. He also cited the close ties that have existed between the towns in the past.

Traffic, parking seen as most urgent problems

Based on a sampling of 20 percent of the population of Antioch, traffic conditions and the lack of parking are seen as the most urgent problems facing the Village. These statistics were among the preliminary results of the recent Resident Attitude Survey revealed by professional planner Bruce Christensen.

Christensen said that there was about a 47 percent return on the survey, which he called very good. The figures which he gave to the Planning Commission were based on a sample of about half of the questionnaires.

On the question of whether or not Antioch should remain its present size, Christensen reported that 44 percent of the sample responded that it should, while 54 percent said, No. Of the latter group, 23 percent indicated a desire for the Village to attain a size of 3,500 to 5,000; 48 percent said they felt between 5 and 10 thousand to be a good size; 16 percent opted for 10 to 15 thousand; 5 percent said 15 to 20 thousand; and 2 percent would like a size of more than 25,000.

By far, the respondents want a single-family oriented community, with a strong industrial base and more commercial development. A total of 69 percent said that they thought the Village should encourage more single-family houses; 62 percent marked against encouraging any more apartments; 73 percent voted for more industry; and 62 percent for more commercial development.

When it came to telling what they like and dislike about their community, the survey respondents found much to write about. On the negative side, traffic and parking were most frequently mentioned in three separate questions. The positive features cited most often include shopping facilities, small town size, police, fire

Gas and paper situations under control at high school

Business Manager Ken Wierschem updated the Antioch Community High School Board on the gas and paper situation at their monthly meeting last Thursday night. Gas acquisition will be no problem as the high school has top priority with Ritzenthaler; however, the price is constantly rising. The paper shortage, it seems, is expected to last two to three years, so teachers have been cooperating by using less paper. A ream of paper (500 sheets) which was only 88 cents last year is now $1.49 and is expected to increase by 15 cents in the near future and 15 cents more in four to six months. The Board approved Wierschem's recommendation to buy more ditto paper since there is room to store 1,000 reams and a dealer has an ample supply.

In a letter to the Board, the Student Council recommended that a bike rack be purchased to accommodate those students who ride bikes to school in good weather. It was decided to investigate this as to price, utilization, and location before allocating funds. The high school had a bike rack a few years ago and finally removed it due to lack of use.

Mrs. June Ross requested and received permission to take a one-year maternity leave, resuming her position in the fall of 1975. The Board also hired Mrs. Anne Kakacek to teach four days a week.

Anyone interested in running for a seat on the High School Board can pick up petitions at the school. It was also reported that the application for an absentee ballot no longer needs to be notarized, though the actual ballot does.

Upcoming events at the high school include a program on the new Volunteer Army at the PTA meeting Wednesday, February 6, and a concert by the Navy's rock band at an assembly on February 20. The next scheduled Board meeting is on February 28.

PERMANENTLY DISABLED TO VOTE MORE EASILY

Grace Mary Stern, County Clerk, announced today that new legislation has made it

MAJOR BEAUTIFICATION GOAL REVIEWED

The Beautification Committee of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce & Industry met on Tuesday, January 22, 1974.

Michael Warren, Chairman, reported that the Committee composed of Terry Folbrich, Bill Patterson, Dick Ford, and Bill Seemann reviewed its major goal of purchasing and planting trees in the side walks of the Antioch business district.

Quotes have been received for the necessary cement work involved and for the trees. Committee members will be making recommendations for the location of the trees.

Warren is hopeful that the trees can be purchased and planted at a price not to exceed $100.00 per tree.

possible for the permanently disabled to vote 'absentee' without "the old red tape" of a doctor's signature witnessed by a Notary Public for each Election. The doctor (unnotarized) will have to sign the form only once and the card that will be issued is good for a five year period and can then be renewed.

"We are now able to offer to the invalid and housebound citizens of Lake County an opportunity to vote without all the legal hassle that used to be required," she said.

The application forms for 'Disabled Voter's Identification Card' are now available at the County Clerk's office upon request and "We are sending a number of the application forms to each of the county's nursing and convalescent homes," said

Mrs. Stern. "We hope to make it possible for a lot of people who have found it just too difficult in past years, to vote in this Spring's Primary Election-March 19th."

The County clerk's office assumes that many of those who will apply will not be registered any longer, as a Voter's Registration is cancelled after four years of inactivity. "We shall try to respond to requests for a Registrar before the statutory closing of registration on February 19th," she said. "And those whom we cannot catch prior to that date will be registered during the Spring and Summer so they can vote in November."

Anyone requiring the services of a Registrar should call the Clerk's office: 689-6632 and give the information. "This is a tremendous breakthrough," said Mrs. Stern. "We've tried to get something like this out of the Legislature for a number of years and the benefits to those who cannot get out to the polls on Election Day will be enormous."

One caution was issued by the Clerk. The disability must be permanent. "This system is not intended for those who are laid up with a broken leg. This is to make it easy for the permanently disabled to apply for and receive an absentee ballot at every Election."

TOWARD GREATER COOPERATION

Anyone familiar with the history of the Lakes Region knows of the historic ties between the Villages of Antioch and Lake Villa.

Though located several miles apart, the residents of the two towns have always seemed close together. What was done in one town often affected, or was affected by, the other.

For years, many of the young people of both towns have attended the same high school. In more recent times, the villages have entered into a cooperative arrangement to provide for police and rescue dispatching services from the Antioch Police station.

Now Lake Villa and Antioch enter a new phase of cooperation, with the appointment of special committees in each town to work together on common problems and areas of interest.

We think this is an excellent idea, and we salute the mayors and trustees of Antioch and Lake Villa for their foresightedness in moving ahead with this project. Only good can come from such discussions as the two towns continue to move physically closer to one another.

Of course, annexation will be one of the issues attracting the immediate attention of the 10-person committee, with all the noise raised over the Antioch Country Club and who (if anybody) is going to annex that development. Lake Villa's intent to annex the Larson Industrial Park also indicates the overlapping of mile-and-a-half limits of the two towns. But there are many other areas for possible discussion.

It would be particularly significant if the two villages, in cooperation with all five area school districts, could arrive at a common policy with respect to new developments and the contributions expected from developers toward local schools and services.

Extension of sewer and water services to outlying areas might be worked out on a cooperative basis, with topography and cost, rather than future village boundaries, being given prime consideration. Coordination of street systems might someday be important. Provision for public parks and recreation facilities should be looked into soon. The upgrading of Route 83, along with coordinated zoning to assure desirable development along that road, could eliminate some of the hodge-podge that exists there now.

The list of possible topics for discussion could go on and on. The idea is clear. There are many areas where Lake Villa and Antioch can benefit from cooperation. The appointment of a joint committee to explore such cooperation is a good beginning.

McGlory on Energy Crisis

Despite the media's preoccupation with the subjects of Watergate and the impeachment inquiry regarding President Nixon - the nation appears to be far more concerned with the energy crisis.

This was established during the recent month-long Congressional recess when members of the Congress -- including this member -- had occasion for extensive contact with their constituents.

Few instances of actual suffering have been reported and the attitude of most citizens may be described as "apprehensive." There are valid reasons for these apprehensions -- particularly with respect to the authenticity of alleged shortages of petroleum products.

Responding to the demands of a Senate Subcommittee, six major U.S. oil companies have conceded that they had larger supplies of crude oil and petroleum products at the end of 1973 than they had at the end of 1972. Except for gasoline, all other petroleum supplies were substantially greater than was the case a year earlier.

One deficiency which has complicated and confused the issue of petroleum shortages is the inadequacy of governmental reporting procedures. Most of the available statistics are compiled by the oil companies themselves -- and there appears to be no legal obligation for oil producers or suppliers to furnish detailed information.

Of course, another perplexing question relates to the increased cost of gasoline, diesel fuel and other petroleum products. While oil companies are authorized to pass on their increased costs to jobbers and retailers, the methods for verifying these cost figures are quite insufficient. In the case of retailers, a one cent per gallon increase over and above previous costs and profit margins has been authorized by the Cost of Living Council. Recent checks by the Internal Revenue Service disclosed general compliance with the general guidelines with only scattered violations.

The dilemma of shortages and cost increases will be occupying the attention of the Congress during these coming weeks -- particularly as the U.S. House and Senate debate the Emergency Energy Act and other legislative measures intended as responses to the public's demand. Still, the congress will be traveling a

Why not sell tickets through the banks and savings and loans so they can be on the up and up?..Dominick Parisi, Chicago.

A. The lottery has captured the interest of many Illinoisans as is evident by the volume of mail I've received since the bill signing Dec. 14.

You may be aware that I had misgivings about a lottery, but I am satisfied that with the provisions we have taken that it will be run honestly.

The effective date is July 1. At this time the form and content of the system have not been determined. I will be appointing a five-man board to determine the size of prizes, the frequency of drawings and the cost of lottery tickets. The Department of Revenue will handle the generated funds, estimated to be $70 to $100 million annually.

The lottery is a people's game and money generated from it will be returned to them through our major people services such as

I hope that people exercise good judgment in playing the lottery. And I'm betting they will have lots of fun anticipating becoming a winner.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES: OTHER ANTIOCHS PRESENT DIFFERING FEATURES

It is doubtful whether Arthur Hehr of Ohio, Bob Wilton of Illinois, and Byron Parsons of California have ever met one another. They probably have very little in common -- except that each lives in a town named Antioch, and each is the mayor of his hometown.

We know Antioch, Illinois, as a busy town of 3,700 on the fringe of the Chicago metropolitan area, actually sharing a boundary with the State of Wisconsin, home of the Charm-glow gas grill, and "Hub of the Lakes Region."

Antioch, California, is a booming river-port city of 33,000, located about 40 miles west of San Francisco. It is a city largely comprised of newer homes, three large shopping centers, new schools, industry, parks and recreation areas, surrounded by rich farmland.

Antioch, Ohio, is a quiet village of 125 residents -- many of them older -- no industry, one church and one gas station.

The colorful brochure sent out by the Chamber of Commerce of the California Antioch is full of glowing descriptions, statistics of progress and success, and optimistic predictions of continued growth. Its purpose, of course, is to "sell" the community to businesses and businessmen considering the possibility of locating there. It used as the foundation" for her home. Doris doesn't say when the picture was taken, but even if it is very recent, the famed Johnson brothers must have settled in Antioch sometime before 1817.

The citizens of Antioch, Ohio apparently do not let their small size slow down civic activity. The Clerk mentions that, besides herself, the town government consists of the mayor (who has been in office about 8 years), a treasurer, and six council members. Simple math indicates that these officials constitute 7 percent of the total population. The most active group in the town, Doris says, is the volunteer fire department.

Antioch's young people attend a consolidated school, located about two miles from town, with an enrollment of about 250.

Antioch, California, by contrast, has its own unified school district, with 7,800 pupils housed in seven elementary schools, two junior high schools and one high school. Five of the ten school buildings are air-conditioned; all have been built within the last 22 years. The system is growing by about 500 students per year. A $4,000,000 bond issue passed in 1970 assures that the school district will be able to keep up with the increased demand. The local nucleus for Antioch's burgeoning industrial strength. Numerous companies have major plants in or near Antioch. More than two-thirds of the tonnage entering or leaving San Francisco Harbor is destined for, or originates at, Antioch or other Contra Costa County inland ports. The Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads provide links to other areas of the state and nation.

While it was the famed Johnson brothers who were early settlers in the Ohio Antioch, it was the Smith brothers (Joseph H. and W.W.) who first settled the west coast town of that name in 1851. The settlement prospered, probably because of the river, and was incorporated in 1872 -- 23 years before the older Ohio settlement.

Referred to as "the once-sleepy river port," Antioch, California, seems to have come alive in the mid-twentieth century. At the end of World War II, fewer than 5,000 people lived there. Today, the population stands at 33,000, and it is expected to exceed 45,000 by 1985. More than 6,000 new homes will be built in the near future, according to city estimates. Several thousand townhouses, condominiums and rental apartments are planned for the same period.

about these in the advertising brochure, of course, and it is difficult to speculate.

According to the brochure, the city has one of the lowest crime rates in California and is virtually free of major crime. The local drug education program has been recognized nationally as a model for other communities.

does not speak of any problems that the community may be experiencing.

The Ohio Antioch does not publish a brochure; it does not have a Chamber of Commerce. The Village Clerk, Mrs. Doris Rutherford, typed out brief answers to some questions submitted to her. She matter-of-factly tells about the founding of the village, its school, government officials, and volunteer fire department. She writes about problems facing Antioch in the same straight-forward manner.

"(We have) too many older people with one person to a house and not enough young families," states Doris. Asked how fast her town is growing, she says, simply. "Not very fast."

If Antioch, Ohio, is not growing very fast, it has been growing for a very long time. According to Doris Rutherford, the first lots were laid out by William Jarvis in 1837. Two additions were added later, and the Village was incorporated August 17, 1895.

A picture sent along with her letter shows the foundation of her house, with the note that, "156 years ago the famed Johnson brothers settled in Antioch. The basement of the house which they built is still junior college district is constructing a new campus on the edge of town. In addition, there is another junior college nearby, and six universities are located within commuting distance of Antioch.

"Very much a river-oriented town," Antioch, California, boasts both high quality industrial facilities and a wide variety of recreational activities. The city itself fronts on the San Joaquin River; a few miles north, that stream flows into the wide and gentle Sacramento River. The 2500-square-mile delta formed by the two rivers contains some 2,000 miles of rivers, streams, sloughs and bays and several hundred small islands. Long known as "The Everglades of the West," the delta region is popular among both water-sport enthusiasts and outdoorsmen. More than 5,000 pleasure boats are moored at 16 marinas in the delta region.

The City of Antioch has a separate Recreation department which offers more than 50 year-round programs at parks and playgrounds throughout the community, including a large beach swim area, an 18-hole golf course, a senior citizens center, and public boat-launching ramp.

The rivers also provide the

DONALD MORRIS NAMED
REGIONAL CHAIRMAN OF LAKE COUNTY
HEART FUND DRIVE

Donald Morris has been named regional chairman of the Lake County Heart Fund drive by R.W. Puder, chairman of the local Heart campaign.

Morris will direct volunteers in Lake County who will join more than two million others across the nation during February — American Heart Month — to visit friends and neighbors, distribute information and collect funds to help reduce premature death and disability from heart disease. The campaign will feature a mass mail solicitation during the month of February.

In announcing the appointment of the regional chairman, Puder reported that heart and blood vessel diseases, the nation's number one killers, are responsible for more than a million deaths a year in this country. These diseases will cost the nation an estimated $19.7 billion in lost wages and medical expenses this year.

Morris, vice president for the State Bank of Antioch as well as an active member in the Lion's Club, Rotary, and Community Chest, has been chairman for the Lake County Heart Association for the past two years.

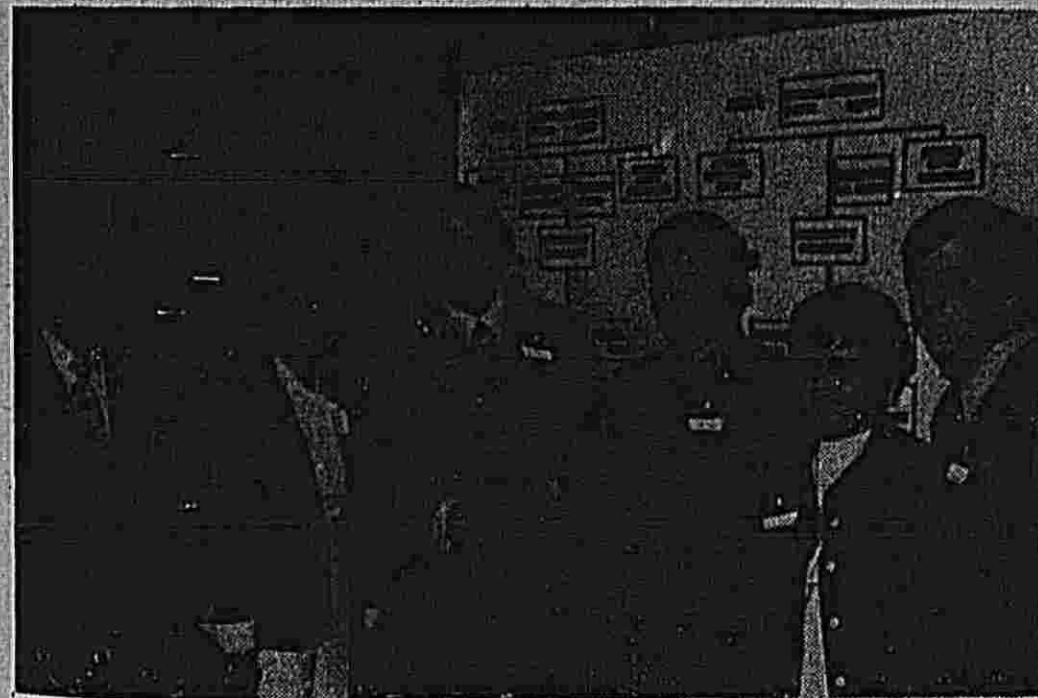

Assisting him in Area I will be Mr. R. Lindblad, Special Corporate Gifts; Mr. and Mrs. J. Lumber, Special Gifts; Mr. D.M. Earhart and Mr. J.A. Cahill, Coordinators; Mr. J. Siegmier, Antioch Township; Mr. D. Jackson, Fox Lake and Ingleside; Mr. D. Andre, Grayslake; Mr. and Mrs. D. Powell, Lake Villa Township; Mr. J. Lumber, Lindenhurst and Round Lake Area and Mrs. V. volunteer citizen reserves. In addition to police and fire protection, the city government provides numerous facilities and services, including water-purification and refuse-disposal, at a municipal tax rate of $2.28 per $100 assessed valuation. All of these functions are administered by a council (headed by Mayor Parsons, selected by the council for a one-year term which ends in April) and City Manager Thomas Oglesby.

Antioch is not a common name for towns in the United States. While nearly every state has an Arlington of one kind or another, and Springfield is found frequently on state maps, only two villages and one city in the United States officially bear the name Antioch. There are, in addition, unincorporated settlements in Indiana, Nebraska, Tennessee and West Virginia — ranging in population from 25 to 250, but having no separate governing body — called by the name Antioch.

Relocation Service Now Available at Michael Warren & Co.

Michael Warren and Company, 392 Lake Street in Antioch have been appointed to membership in RELO Inter-City Relocation Service according to Executive Director, George M. Otto.

RELO Inter-City Relocation Service, now the nation's leading not-for-profit real estate referral organization, was established by realtors in 1960 to help transferees.

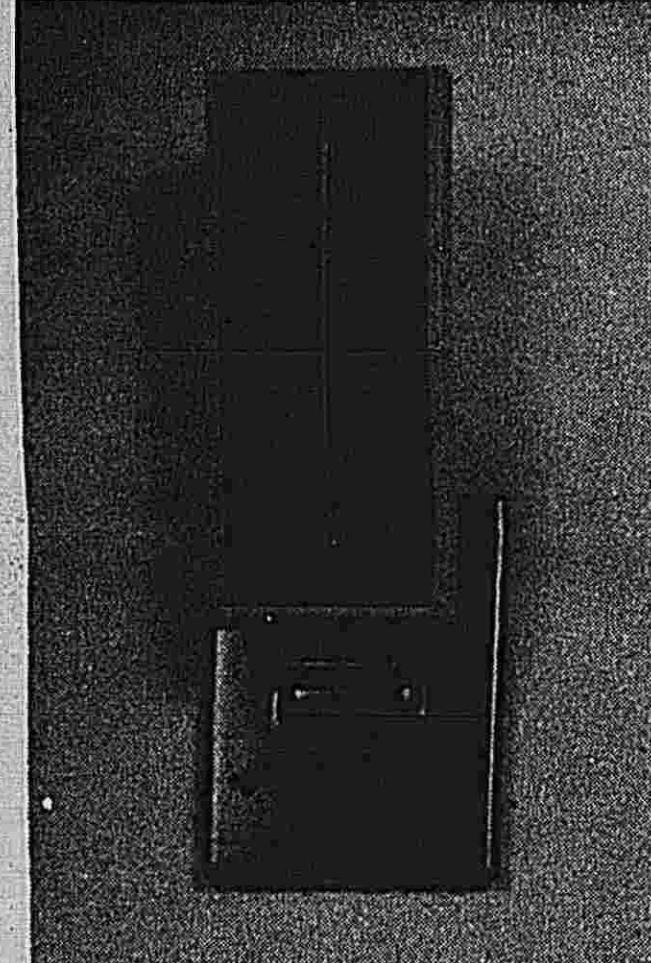

"The coming of RELO to Antioch is a great blessing," according to Mike Warren. "In the past twelve months, we've sent over twenty-four families relocating from Antioch without any help at the other end. RELO means professional skill, help, and courtesy at the other end. This is crucial for the family, making a move."

The RELO referral system is designed to reduce worry and problems at both ends of a move. Members of RELO Inter-City Relocation Service work closely with corporate managements who have come to realize a transferee's performance on a new job assignment can be hampered if he or his wife is worried about housing problems.

Dr. Howard Benson to speak at Methodist Church

Dr. Howard Benson, District Superintendent of the Elgin District, Northern Illinois Conference, will be the guest speaker at the 9:30 a.m. service of the United Methodist Church of Antioch, Sunday, February 2. Dr. Benson, who was pastor of the church from 1953 to 1958, will speak on the theme, "Dare to Hope". He will also conduct an "All Church Conference" at 10:45 a.m. All members and friends of the church are invited to the church conference and Noon Meal.

PRESIDENTIAL CITATION WINNER TO

BE SPEAKER AT ANNUAL DINNER-MEETING

Delbert J. Cook, Cedarburg, Wisconsin, will give a slide presentation, "The Time Has Come To Do The Impossible" on Saturday, February 2nd, at the Lake County Farm Bureau, Routes 120 and 45 in Grayslake. This was announced by Walter Vogl, Chairman of the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District. The District's Annual Roast Beef and Chicken Buffet will be served at 6:30 p.m., and Mr. Cook's presentation will be given at 7:30 p.m. All are invited to attend. Tickets for the $5.00 dinner may be obtained by phoning the District Office at 438-6319 or 438-5427. There is no charge for the presentation. Four directors will be elected for two-year terms, and conservation awards will be given.

Mr. Cook is extremely active in many conservation-preservation projects. He was featured in the July, 1970 issue of the Reader's Digest in "He Brought A Stream Back To Life", and is the recipient of many awards.

Mr. Cook worked with citizen-volunteers in cleaning up the badly polluted 32-mile long Cedar Creek, in spite of wide-spread lethargy and lack of cooperation. Today trees and shrubs have been planted along the creek, it is stocked with fish and is safe for swimming.

"Lake County residents should be concerned with methods to save the wonderful resources they now enjoy" Vogl stated, "and the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District can offer a great deal of help to the environmentally concerned."

DIABETICS DETECTED IN AREA TESTING

Seventy area residents were found to have elevated amounts of sugar in their blood, during tests taken at St. Therese Hospital, 2615 W. Washington, during Diabetes Detection Week.

The hospital tested a total of 257 persons, which surpassed the anticipated number of tests, according to a summary compiled by the Diabetes Association of Greater Chicago, 620 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Seventy-five other hospitals in surrounding communities and throughout the greater Chicago area, offered the free testing for the detection of diabetes to the general public.

In addition to the free testing at St. Therese Hospital, a workshop was open to diabetics providing information on food products, medications for controlling the disease, dietary plans and a film explaining the disease and how it is controlled. Members of the Hospital's medical, dietary, pharmacy, laboratory and nursing service departments were present to answer questions and offer material regarding diet, medications and methods of testing for sugar.

Along the Way with Annie Mae

Hear tell there's another member of the broken bones club in Antioch. Chris Pionke, Secretary of the Chamber, slipped on the ice and broke her arm. So be nice to her you merchants-- It's pretty hard to be a one armed secretary.

Susan Sedivec, Antioch's Community Relations Officer is getting around and meeting as many people as she can. Sunday, January 27, she spoke to the congregation of the United Methodist Church and explained her purpose and job. She also spoke to the Oakwood Knolls Property Owners last week. This will make it easier for someone to use her services if they feel they know her. That's the way, Susan.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lombardo celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary on Sunday, January 27th. After mass, a party was held in the family room at St. Peter's for family and friends. Entertainment was provided by Babe Wagner at the organ.

A speedy get well to Warren Sheehan who is recovering from Surgery at Victory Memorial Hospital.

A very special anniversary wish to Pat and Bill Herbert who will celebrate 21 years of wedded bliss on January 31st.

department and rescue squad. Christensen told the Planning Commission that he would have more complete survey tabulations and a more complete sampling by the next adjourned meeting, January 31. However, he added, the preliminary results were a sufficient basis to move ahead on a final statement of goals for the Comprehensive Plan.

"I see no conflict between the survey results and the goals as we've stated them already," the professional planner said. "A lot of people took a lot of time to fill these out," he added; "It's turned out well."

No energy crisis here

Students concerned with endangered wildlife and wilderness have formed a highly energetic organization at the College of Lake County. These students, with CLC faculty members Jerry Hinkley, Wildwood and Ronald Riepe, Grayslake, and others call themselves SPEW (the Society for the Protection of Endangered Wildlife).

Kelly Grant, Antioch, a spokesperson for SPEW, stated that the depth of the organization has been increased as the membership has increased. "SPEW is open, not only to CLC students, but to all people within the Lake County area," she said.

"We meet every Friday morning at 10:45 on the college campus," Grant said. "We also have bi-monthly meetings on Sunday evenings to encourage participation of those who cannot attend the morning meetings."

According to Larry Vendl, Antioch, club president, education is one of SPEW's main goals. "Education of the public must first be accomplished before there can be any chance of survival for our wildlife and wilderness," he explained.

The group has formed an educational committee which travels to schools and organizations throughout the Lake County area. "We want to inform our young as well as older people about the problems facing America's wildlife and wildlands today," Nancy Radke, committee chairperson from Mundelein, states.

As a second community service, SPEW has placed a paper re-cycle shed on the northwest corner of the college parking lot. Money earned from the sale of the paper to re-cycling companies will help finance a SPEW delegation's trip to the 1974 Endangered Species Conference in Washington, D.C., in June.

"We cooperate with many organizations throughout the country to advocate unity in the preservation of our wilderness," Vendl explained. "Working for reform of government predator control programs and for enforcement of laws protecting wildlife and wilderness are two more of our main concerns."

One highly successful local program co-sponsored by SPEW and the college's contemporary issues committee is a series of five nature film-lectures. These programs, part of the Audubon Wildlife Lecture Series, are offered as a free public service. The next film-lecture, "The Living Jungle," is scheduled for February 10, at 8:00 p.m. in the CLC college center.

Other SPEW activities include an Illinois State Beach workshop, flower shows, National Wildlife Week, recycle sales, a teaching committee, anti-leghold trap legislation, sponsoring such nationally noted speakers as Charlie Erickson of Canada, and study excursions to areas like Volo Bog, Eagle Valley, and the state fish hatchery.

SPEW is featuring an exhibit in the college center on the Grayslake campus on January 31 and February 1. The next club meeting will be on February 3 at 7 p.m. in the college center annex.

Interested individuals from the community are invited to come out to the College of Lake County and meet with SPEW members and explore the activities of this energetic group.

Maura Kearns Weds Randy Wix

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph C. Wix, who were married by the Reverend Leslie Hoppe in St. Peter's Catholic Church in Antioch, are making their home in Mundelein, Illinois.

The new Mrs. Wix is the former Maura L. Kearns. Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Wix of Antioch.

Suzanne Klimek and Richard Small were honor attendants at the December 15 wedding. Chris Wix, the groom's sister, was a bridesmaid and Jeffrey Wix, the groom's brother, and Michael Klimek were ushers.

The 11:00 a.m. very carefully planned ceremony was delayed a little while so that the bride's dress could arrive from Chicago. This was the week of the big snow and somehow things got a little messed up for this lovely young couple. However, love always conquers all and the ceremony went on as planned.

Before leaving for a honeymoon in Wisconsin, the newlyweds were feted at a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Small given by Mr. and Mrs. Murray Wix.

BLOOD BANK DRIVE SUCCESSFUL

A resident of Antioch for 62 years, she is a member of St. Ignatius Church and Ladies' Auxiliary. Retirement for Bernice means more time to devote to her favorite leisure activities. She and her husband, Carl, are anticipating the future which includes lots of travel.

It was evident to all those who came into contact with her, that Bernice Reisser gave 100 percent dedication and service to all of her responsibilities at the bank. Her familiar face will be missed by officers, staff and State Bank friends alike. Bernice's fellow employees

Lady Audley Contest in Second Week

Last week Antioch undertook the task of trying to discover what Lady Audley's secret is. The PM&L Theater has launched a contest to unearth the secret. If you can make a good guess as to what it might be, send it to PM&L, Box 23, Antioch. Contest winners may receive free tickets to performances at which the secret will be revealed officially.

"Lady Audley's Secret," a colorfully costumed musical production, will open soon at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main Street, in Antioch. Playdates are the Friday and Saturday evenings of February 9, 15, 16, 22, and 23. Among the more delightfully spirited song and dance numbers in the show are such pieces as "The English Country Life," "Civilized," "Dead Men Tell No Tales," and "The Audley Family Honor." Barber shop singers will be forced to admit that they have not really lived until they have seen the production's lavishly choreographed "Firemen's Quartet."

The production is directed by Ken Smouse and most of the music emanating from the orchestra pit is produced by Tracy Teltz, piano, and David Rush, percussion. Members of the cast include Dena Fabry as Lady Audley; Tessa Smith, Phoebe, Don Beveroth, Luke; Bob Bundy, Sir Michael Audley; Rita Shields, Alicia Audley; Lou Jones, Captain Robert Audley; Tom Housman, George Tallboys; and Bill Sershon as Smithers the butler. Others — mainly singers and dancers in the chorus — are Dee Baum, Becky Montooth, Jacque Vogt, Ricky and Hank Apostol, Nancy Mancuso, Tim Shields, and George Blanksten. The choreographer is Lyn Zaehler.

For reservations to see this melodramatic spectacle, call 395-9702. Meanwhile hurry to try your luck in the contest to guess what Lady Audley's secret is. With nothing worth mentioning to lose, you do stand a chance to win a pair of free seats to see the dramatic expose of the secret on February 9, 15, 16, 22, or 23.

ABC'S OF TRAVEL

Barb Corbin

Air Travelers' Flying Rights

If you have a problem with an airline (fares, baggage, poor service, delayed flights, or any kind of treatment which you feel was unfair or discourteous) your very first action should be to report the difficulty to the airline company. The field of air travel is a competitive business, and airlines are anxious more than ever to provide service that is satisfactory to the customer. Some have even established consumer offices to handle problem situations.

If the airline does not respond or fails to settle your claim within a reasonable period of time and the agency has not had any response; then write the CAB Office of Consumer Affairs for assistance. Coordinate this with your local travel agency. Any member of the public who feels he has a grievance against a CAB-regulated air transport organization may file an informal complaint with the Office.

The CAB regulates the economic activities of all U.S. Certificated Airlines providing domestic, overseas or international service, and regulates the economic activities of foreign airlines to the extent that these carriers operate to and from the U.S. Intrastate carriers and air taxis including commuter carriers, are exempt from most CAB regulation. Air taxis are small operators flying small aircraft ordinarily with a maximum of 30 seats. Also exempt are your supplemental carriers.

Complaints submitted to the CAB must be in writing but no special format is required. They should be addressed to: Office of Consumer Affairs, Civil Aeronautics Board, Washington, D.C. 20428.

Transportation analysts review every complaint received and contact the airline involved to request that the company settle the matter promptly and report back to CAB on the action taken. If an airline is found to be violating provisions of its tariff, regulatory action is taken and new regulations are proposed when the volume of complaints in a specific area indicate a need.

So instead of sitting home and complaining to yourself and friends, let the proper people know about your beef and everyone will be a lot better - you and the next customer. It only takes a few moments of your time IF you know the right direction to move.

Notes on the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary Unit 748

The Antioch American Legion Auxiliary 748 will have their annual potluck supper birthday party on February 4th, at 6:30 p.m., at their Antioch American Legion Home. Invited guests will be the member's husbands, and the Antioch Legionnaires and their wives. Due to the illness and hospitalization of Unit President, Mrs. John L. Horan; Mrs. Ray Rathmann, first vice president, will conduct a brief meeting. After the dinner and meeting, card games will be played.

Membership is now reported as close to 80 paid up members. To attain their goal as a 100 percent membership unit, they need 93 members.

Susan Rathmann, Dianna De Vries, two of their girl friends and Mrs. Rathmann enjoyed the ice skating party of the 10th District Juniors, held at the Ice Skating Arena in Zion on Sunday, January 20th. Then, on Friday, January 25th, Susan Rathmann, Coleen and Dianna De Vries, accompanied by their mothers, Mrs. Rathmann and Mrs. Bernard De Vries, were present at the 10th District's Junior meeting at the Sharvin American Legion Home in North Chicago. Susan, as district junior president, and Coleen, district junior secretary, officiated at this session.

into existence, all Auxiliary programs were and still are organized for the benefit and welfare of others. The needy, disabled and hospitalized veterans, deceased veteran's indigent widows and dependents, children and youth welfare, community service projects, promoting Americanism, providing various and numerous kinds of scholarships, etc., are only a partial list of the many activities of the Auxiliary.

"Any Auxiliary member is eligible for assistance if the applicant is a currently paid up member, who has been in good standing for the past five consecutive years. Assistance originates at the unit level and after verification of the needy has been made, the application is sent to the state secretary, who verifies membership requirements and forwards the application to national headquarters. Approved applications will normally be processed for payment within 24 hours after receipt."

Since this is a new program, more contributions are badly needed from Units to build up a larger sum in this emergency fund. Memorial donations are a fine way to support this program. They serve a dual purpose of showing respect for the deceased, while at the same time assisting our own temporarily needy member," Mrs. Robbins said. She urges all Units to send donations to this American Legion Auxiliary of all applicants. Election committee will accept all Application-Petitions. Election committee will determine eligibility and acceptance of candidates to the school board.

Announcement of qualifying candidates will be made at the school board meeting on March 14th.

In the event a candidate does not qualify, he will be advised of the decision as well as the reason for his failure to obtain certification prior to March 14th.

Any candidate will have the opportunity to question the election committees should he fail to obtain certification and present his case in favor of certification prior to March 14th.

Election committee will be dissolved after completion of election.

BETTY LOU REED PROPOSES NEW LINK BETWEEN DISTRICT, LEGISLATOR

"I will do away with the tradition of maintaining a district office," Republican State Representative candidate Betty Lou Reed said Sunday, as she unveiled her own program for communication between state legislators and citizens of the district.

A district office, she said, limits the legislator to that particular area in which the office happens to be located.

"This is too diverse a district with widely differing needs, viewpoints and ways of life for that," Mrs. Reed added. She revealed her intention to use the office expense budget to hold regular meetings with the people of the district, scheduling one such meeting a month so as to cover all 12 townships in the 32nd District every year.

EDWARD VASS PROPOSES THE GOVERNMENT TURN OVER SURPLUS MATERIALS

Edward M. Vass, Republican candidate for Congress in the 13th District, today called for the federal government to turn over, at no cost, surplus military material to local government for use in public safety, law enforcement, and vocational and technical education.

"This is an opportunity to eliminate this needless waste and at the same time provide local government, which desperately needs, but cannot afford to buy this material, the equipment to carry out many life-saving programs," Vass said.

"Every village and town, every police department, every fire department, and every school could use this now-wasted material," Vass stressed.

"One of the first things I will do in Congress is to propose creation of a Federal Surplus Distribution Committee to get this material to local government."

Vass said this is the type of leadership the 13th District deserves, and has not been getting, in congress.

Disclosure of RTA Campaign Sources target of Skinner Bill

A bill was introduced into the Illinois legislature last week by State Representative Calvin Skinner of Crystal Lake requiring public disclosure of campaign contributions and expenditures used to promote or defeat referendums in the state. The immediate object of the legislation, according to Skinner is to determine "what person or corporation would be willing to put up that kind of money," referring to the half million dollars which proponents of the RTA have announced that they intend to spend.

"Prompt passage of my bill will provide the people with information necessary to guess who stands to gain what from passage of RTA on March 19," Skinner said.

With A "Stern Eye"

When I was a kid they used to run a one-panel cartoon in our hometown paper, the Peekskill Evening Star, called "Out Our Way"--and the gagline under it often read: "Why Mothers Get Grey." The material was frequently an inspiration to my brother and me in that endless life-game of parent-baiting.

Lately the goings-on in Springfield indicate they must be creating a new humor strain which might be called: "Why Clerks Get Grey". Take for instance--and do please--the recent shenanigans with the ballot-order lottery. After you've taken that, examine if you will, the timetable imposed on County Clerks by the Election Code--and then maybe it will be clear to both of us how we can put on a proper election in the circumstances.

To begin: Back in 1971 when we were a new administration, weak in the knees and still damp, we inaugurated what seemed a fair way for candidates to file election petitions. According to law, order on the ballot is dictated by order of filing. And in view of the widespread belief that first place adds 15 percent to one's vote-total, candidates have jostled for that spot since democracy was in the cradle. You may recall, old newspaper pictures of candidates sleeping through the night outside the locked doors of a County Clerk's office in order to be the first to file.

We decided at that time, to issue a policy statement that everyone waiting outside the office door at 9:00 a.m. (together with those petitions received in that morning's mail) would be considered a tie for filing purposes. And the tie would be broken at a public drawing. It wouldn't matter then, if they had arrived at 3:00 or at 8:58 in the morning. Thus we would do away with the old sleeping-bags-on-the-steps concept. And we did it.

The procedure was highly successful. We were sued, of course. We have been sued fairly often since then, but that was the first time. Our policy was vindicated in a ruling by Judge Van Deusen, and we were content that fairness and good sense had been served.

Late in 1973 the new State Electoral Board, in its first statement on policy and procedure, outlined a petition-filing policy identical to our now established one. And predictably, a lawsuit emerged. But their lawsuit with its concomitant appeals and trips to higher courts, has delayed the normal process to the point where every Clerk in Illinois has been nervously gnawing his/her knuckles in despair of getting the ballots out on time--because we cannot print our ballot pages (or in paper ballot counties, the paper ballots) until we receive the official certification from the Secretary of State. That certification includes the order on the ballot of the candidates for each of the districts under state jurisdiction. And what dictates that order? The drawing to break the ties incurred at the opening of business the first day of filing. The newspapers refer to that public drawing as "the ballot lottery".

According to law we should have received that certification on January 16th. Our schedule is then pretty well fixed. A couple of days to lay out the ballot page format for our Vote-o-Matic voting machines, a couple of days for the printer to run us a proof, another day to make corrections on the proof. The printer requires several days, maybe even a week, to turn out the ballot pages and the specimen ballots which are sent out to those making application for absentee ballots.

We were gratified to hear that the Supreme Court, following in Van Deusen's footsteps, had vindicated the No-Nonsense petition filing system. Chance rather than a fleet foot or a friend with night entry to the County Building will continue to determine who is to eat the fruit of the political tree--i.e., first place on the ballot.

But the Supreme Court made their decision on January 22nd; they held the Lottery on the 23rd; we anticipate receiving the certification on or about the 29th. And the Election Code tells us we must begin sending absentee ballots to members of the Armed Forces on February 1st.

...sigh... Perhaps just a touch-up.

KIT MOSS AT LAKE COUNTY COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE FEB. 8

120, Grayslake, Illinois.

The program is open to the public as it promises to be exciting and informative to all women--those who sew and/or purchase ready-to-wear garments. According to Kit Moss, "No one has a perfect figure and there really is no such thing as an ideal figure." She performs a figure analysis session and teaches women what to wear to flatter their figures and make them appear in better proportion.

The program starts out with an interpretation of fashion trends to find the right fashion for you. You then select the right style to create the illusion of a more proportionate figure, match the right fabric to your figure, select the most complementary colors, and finally make sure the fit is perfect. "After all, a perfect fit in a pair of slacks, for example, is fine, but what if the style and color is wrong for you?" says Kit Moss.

Kit Moss will teach good fit in patterns based on the methods she teaches in the Home Study Course. She presents step-by-step easy methods for achieving perfect fit. Her background includes complete pattern design and pattern drafting techniques. She is a fashion designer, accomplished seamstress, and holds an MBA from the Harvard Graduate School of Business. She has also been a buyer of women's ready-to-wear, a costume designer, and merchandiser for a large department store chain.

Women attending the program are asked to bring several sharp pencils, plain white paper, scissors, measuring tape, Scotch tape, and a ruler. You will use the materials during the morning sessions from 9:30 a.m. to noon and during the option afternoon workshop.

For additional information, call Mrs. Irene M. Green at the Lake County Extension Service office, telephone 223-8627.

LIBERTYVILLE MAN IS WRITE-IN CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Charles A. Breeden of Libertyville announced that he is a write-in candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman from the 13th District. He is asking voters to write his name on the Republican primary ballot, March 19. Breeden said that he "could support the every-day issues that digs deeply into the pockets of the everyday worker and taxpayer."

REGISTER NOW FOR PRIMARY ELECTION

Lake County Clerk, Grace Mary Stern, announced today that the last day to register for the Primary Election to be held on March 19th, will be Tuesday, February 19th.

"If you're not registered at all—be sure to locate a registrar (Call us—689-6629—and we'll tell you who is closest to you)—or come in to the Clerk's Office at the County Building in Waukegan," said Mrs. Stern.

If over 18, a citizen of the U.S. and if he/she has lived at his present address for a least 30 days, an individual is eligible to become a registered voter.

"The law places the responsibility for getting registered and for making appropriate changes in the registration name or address, directly on the voter," said Mrs. Stern. "Therefore, if you have changed your name or moved into Lake County from another county, you must re-register before you can vote."

"If you have moved within Lake County and not changed your registration address with the County Clerk, this is the time to get the record current." Mrs. Stern went on to point out that if the voter has moved, it is only necessary to fill out the form on the back of his Voter's I.D. card and mail it to the County Clerk before February 19th.

According to Illinois State law an individual who is not registered or who is incorrectly registered cannot vote. Also statutorily, Voter Registration closes 28 days prior to each county, state and national election, so those who wish to be correctly registered for the March 19th Primary, must take care of it before February 19th. Registration will reopen on March 21st.

GASOLINE STORAGE WARNING: YOU MAY BE BREAKING THE LAW

Already in Illinois there have been several deaths as a result of careless storage of gasoline. And with the fuel crisis upon us, the temptation may be greater to keep just a few gallons around in case of emergency. But please—don't do it! I can't emphasize enough how dangerous storing gasoline is. And besides, you may be breaking the law.

The Illinois Department of Law Enforcement says for personal or private use, no more than "five gallons of crude petroleum, benzine, benzol, gasoline, naphtha and their compounds may be kept on hand"—and then only if "stored in an approved safety container, remote from flame or open fire. Such storage must not be in any cellar, basement, or pit and should be in a room with direct ventilation to the outside, and preferably in an outbuilding or garage."

So, if you're storing more than five (5) gallons of gasoline or similar fuel for personal or private use, you're breaking Illinois law—you are guilty of a misdemeanor...and, if convicted, you could be fined between $10 and $50 for each day of each offense, recoverable in a civil action by the Illinois Attorney General's office or county State's Attorney.

ieve with wholeness and harmony of being a human being and the conscious obligation to arrive at this goal.

An acorn has no choice. Once it is put into the ground, conditions being proper, the acorn draws in what it needs from outside itself and then must grow into an oak tree. The acorn cannot develop into an elm tree, it cannot develop into a dog nor can it develop into a human being.

Woman/man is a high form of creation, made in the image and likeness of God. Besides having an intellect, woman/man also has free will. Unlike the acorn, which must grow into an oak tree, woman/man also has free will and can say, "no, no I do not want to achieve the wholeness and harmony of a human being."

Conscience seems to be an inherent director, telling us when we are on the right path. It tells us when a free choice that we make is right or wrong. Conscience tells us that this particular choice is leading us to or leading us away from that image and likeness of God that we are intended to be.

Ice Fishing Derby On Channel Lake

Excitement is building up at derby headquarters as the date of Saturday and Sunday February 16 and 17 draws near for the 1974 running of the Combined 885 Civic Club of Antioch Northern Illinois Conservation Club Ice Fishing Derby and Winter Festival on the south end of Channel Lake, three miles west of Antioch on Rte 173.

Prizes will be awarded all day. A derby official will be prowling the Channel Lake ice, searching out unlucky fishermen and fishergals who "luckily" did not yet catch a fish.

Many special events will be run on both days from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., prize awards will be made on both days, plus prizes for the largest fish of each species of the derby, and the one largest fish of the derby.

Main entrance to the derby site is through "Mr. Wonderfull's Resort" on Lake Avenue, one-quarter mile north of Rte 173 on the west side of Channel Lake.

Hot refreshments will be offered and burning salamanders will be spotted around the ice for contestants to warm-up.

Sheriff Orville Pat Clavey and a group of off-duty snowmobile mounted deputies will be present to patrol the ice and assist the attending public in whatever way they can.

VARSITY WRESTLERS CONTINUE WINNING WAYS

The Varsity wrestlers met two opponents this last week and easily defeated both. McHenry was at Antioch Tuesday night and went home a 54-5 loser. The visiting Warriors filled only five weights and were able to win one and tie another. Winning for the Sequoits were John Roberts with a fall in 1:41 at 105, Dirk Dietz on a fall in 1:04, Bill Beese by a 13-3 score and Steven Coles with a fall in 2:42. All other wins were by forfeit.

Cary Grove was hosted by the Sequoits on Friday nite and lost 30-15. Impressive winners for Antioch were Dennis Thain 6-2 at 112, Dirk Dietz 11-3 at 126, Bill Hogan with a fall at 132, Mike Walsh a sophomore making his first varsity appearance 7-2 at 145, and Bill Beese 4-0 at 167.

Next week is the last week of dual meets this season. Friday nite the Sequoits travel to Stevenson. Saturday the always tough Mundelein Mustangs are at Antioch at 1:00. Tuesday night at 6:45 Warren is at Antioch for the last dual of the year.

SEQUOITS ROLL OVER CARY GROVE

Playing sound, steady basketball, the Antioch Sequoits rolled to an impressive 74-55 win over the Cary Grove Trojans at Cary last Friday evening.

Using a full-court press and a zone defense, the Sequoits took command of the game early. In the first quarter Vic McGuire hit four baskets and Russ Albano made three to lead the Sequoits to a 20-10 first quarter lead.

The Trojans from Cary Grove were using a man to man defense - covering the outside shooting, but the fine passing of Mark Andrews, Mike Gutowski and Russ Albano enabled Mike Perrone to have a fine scoring night inside, as he lead all scorers with 29 points.

The Sequoit power machine again displayed great balance with four players in double figures, many super passes and solid rebounding. The team free throw shooting, was very good too, as they hit 16 of 20 free throws.

It wasn't until early in the fourth quarter when the Sequoits finally put the game out of reach. Leading 53-10 at the start of the quarter, the press started to both Cary Grove and they turned the ball over several times. The Sequoits took advantage of these mistakes to open up a large 66 to 44 lead and then the subs finished the game.

"We have used the press a couple games now and all is going good, the team is adjusting very well to it," quoted Coach Andrews. "We need to have more movement in our man offense, but that rhythm will be back I am sure," added the Sequoit mentor.

This coming Friday evening has two important aspects. A victory over Stevenson would be coach Andrews 200th varsity victory at Antioch High School. Friday's game will also be the Annual Parents Night, an evening dedicated to the parents of the varsity basketball players and cheerleaders. It is hoped the Sequoit fans will turn out for the gala evening.

7th Grade Gagers lose to Lake Villa

Last Thursday the Antioch 7th grade basketball team lost a heartbreaker to the Lake Villa team. Antioch never got organized and were outscored in every quarter. Lake Villa's Peterson and Kelly scored 25 of Lake Villa's 33 points and were too much for the Antioch team. High scorer for Antioch was Korjenek with 10 points.

FRIDAY BIG NIGHT FOR ANDREWS, SEQUOITS

When the Antioch basketball Sequoits take on Stevenson on their home floor Friday evening, it will be a big night for the players and their coach, Roger Andrews.

The team members and cheerleaders have selected that game for the annual Parents Night. The parents will be special guests that night, to see their sons and daughters in action.

Andrews revealed that he has a personal milestone coming up, hopefully, Friday. Last week's 74-55 win over Cary Grove was the coach's 199th varsity victory at Antioch. The game against Stevenson offers the opportunity to stretch that to 200 wins. Andrews said that it is not too frequent that a coach gains that many victories at one school; he added that it will be personally very satisfying to him to have done so. Andrews' wins, he said, outnumber the losses by about two-to-one.
